

Project Summary

Project No: 0019-04

Project Title: Quality Living Platform

Name of Organization: Women Service Association

Grant Approved: HK$150,000.00

◆ Project Highlights

Through the platform of “Quality Living Platform”, the project aims at nurturing a group of middle-aged women, who are commonly identified as service recipients, to venture business on a “self-finance mode”. Social groups liked elderly and non-engaged youth will also be enlisted to form service teams, with transmission of “know how” and consultative support derived from business and professional sectors, to render services to those under- privileged. “Empowerment” and “Transformation” will also be undertaken in the process for the achievement of “social capital” and “community integration” in the long run.

◆ Brief Description of Programmes to be organized

The Project aims at integrating different sectors in the community, including elderly, housewives and youngsters, through training and empowerment, to enhance their social concern spirit, and to promote their awareness to community service. The service group and those under service will ultimately be transformed to become social capital and make valuable contribution to society in return. To achieve the objectives, context of service can be divided into 2 folds:

1. Establish “Quality Living Platform :

Understand community’s needs (especially the elderly and low-income people) Under the theme of “Healthy Life”, the project will network business sector and professional personnel to provide direct sale service to customers, in a reasonable cost with reliable quality assurance. The project also plans to mobilize unemployed people to take up service opportunities liked delivery service, packaging service and shop keeping service in conjunction with the direct sale service.

2. Community Caring Team: To implement the concepts of cross age service integration and collaboration with business sector with highlighting on empowering the under-privileged to make nurturing of social capital possible.

The Project aims at recruiting housewives and non– engaged youth, arranged them with training and service opportunities, to transform them to become local base service team. Strategy is to arrange tangible service to elderly at risk and under privileged groups in the forms of house repair and cleansing service, soup and goods delivery service etc. with intention to establish rapport among them. Ultimate goal is to net them together for social support purpose. Efforts would also be allocated to transform the service receivers to service givers in the long run. In the process, business sector and relevant professions will take part in the following items:

- As mentor to youth
- As instructor for skill training and transmission of technical “know how”
- As advisor for business operating model
- As consultant to promotion campaign and publicity.
- As supporter in resources search

◆ Unique Feature of the Project

1. The Project puts balanced emphasis on service development as well as business driven operation. The “ self-financing” mode of service ventured the idea of new financing mode to enable the sustainability of the service.
2. The Project aims at establishing a platform to enhance the co-operation and collaboration among various sectors in the District. In the forms of exchange of resources, knowledge transaction and technical support, the “Quality Living Platform” is expected to perform the function as catalyst to boost up the integrative effort of Government (Social Welfare Dept., Housing Dept. and Home Affairs Department), business sector (local shops, goods supplies and professionals) and local people (elderly, housewife and younger) to enhance the concept of “community investment” and “community inclusion”.

3. The Project will strive to establish a social support network among middle-aged women and deprived social groups in community, enhance their awareness to social concern and to promote their community participation. Through mutual influence and empowerment, service recipients are expected to transform to service givers for the purpose of accumulating of “social capital”.
4. The Project will foster the spirit of self-help and mutual help in inclusive perspectives by breaking through the age boundary. Intergenerational social groups join hand in hand and to work together. By enhancing the Intergenerational communication, appreciation and cooperation, community integration and solidarity will be harvested

◆ Project Duration

1 Year (from 1st June 2005 to 31st May 2006)

◆ Target Groups

Local communities (elderly, middle-age unemployed, non-engaged youths, housewives, local organizations etc.)

◆ Location of the Project

Shek Yam, Kwai Chung

◆ Expected Outputs and Outcomes

Expected Outcome

1. Not less than 1,000 people fall in the Project network. Among them, not less than 200 is middle-aged women.
2. Not less than 50 heads attend drop-in service per opening session per month.
3. Not less than 120 heads recruited to perform services of the Project (Housewives 80, Elderly 20, Youngster 20)
 - 3.1 Among them, not less than 30 will actively join various working groups.
 - 3.2 Among them, not less than 15 heads join the core management team of the Project
4. Not less than 15 business bodies to collaborate
5. In regular customers’ opinion polls, not less than 60% shows satisfaction to the services performed by the Project.

Expected Outcome

”Quality Living Platform” will become the connection and station among each section in the community, collect community power so as to broaden the human resources network:

- The support network labeled by the main stream society as disadvantaged minority (including the elderly, the unemployed middle age and teenagers, house wives etc.)
- The cooperation with commercial and professional sectors