Expected Outcome and Indicators

Not only providing volunteer service, they shared fun and one’s mind with each other, and built up sincere friendship and peer relationships among the parents and secondary school students. To elaborate the potential of peer, the parents and secondary school students, they carried out variety kinds of gathering. They also cared the development and needs of the seed (The children) thoroughly, in order to foster the seed (the children) healthily

Significant and innovative:

We introduced a special after-school care service that we did not just emphasize the training of knowledge passing, concentration controlling or how to equip the children for examination in the most effective way. On the other hand, we put emphasis on the children’s confidence building, self-learning in progress and provide a respectful environment to assist self-learning spirit development. Not only academic discussion and teaching, tutor (Parents and Secondary School Students) always lead and raise some general knowledge in the class, collaborated learning, corrections and experience in the whole learning platform. It is successful to assist the children whose are weak in learning to build up their confidence and motivation of learning in an effective way.

Parents Tutors assist Children with their concentration, polite and improvement in studying to motivate them for further improvement. Beside, they educate the students with general knowledge games and teach the basis of “Win and loss” in a fair platform. It is a significant learning way for the children, especially who is born in the single-child family.
