

CHARM Adventure City (0025-20)

Project Summary

“CHARM Adventure City” is a community-based adventure project which uses an innovative means to mobilize the social capital. Different kinds of adventure trainings and activities will be provided for the families and neighbourhood in Sha Tin to build up and foster mutual trust and cohesive relationship among families of different social backgrounds. Upon trainings, the core families will organize different community adventure-based activities for different age groups in the community. The project will also collaborate with different stakeholders, such as schools, businesses and local organizations to pool together various resources and strengths to support the community in a whole. Through capitalising on the strengths of all parties, the project will eventually be able to enhance solidarity and social cohesion of the community for advancing the social network and social capital.
