

Youth Got Talent - Youth Support Program for Ethnic Minorities - The Lok Sin Tong Benevolent Society, Kowloon

Project Summary

Develop youth potentials and enhance their self-esteem

Diversified interests classes will be organized for the ethnic minority youth, giving them a community spot, and develop their potentials, enhance their self-confidence towards life.

Establish a cross-generation, cross-ethnicity and cross-strata mutual support network

The project will network all social capitals from government bodies, corporate, university students and social service organizations, to set up mutual support network for deprived youth and the community.

Role transformation from service recipients to givers

We will encourage the youth to participate in social services so as to build up their positive self-image and sense of loyalty to the community. It is planned that some of our targeted youth will be trained to be the mentors of those deprived kids and promote a harmonious community.
